

Home/On-Line Retreat hosted by Kevala Retreat:

Monday March 22nd through Friday March 26th (three sessions daily)

Divine, Immeasurable Abodes (brahma-vihāras)

Through kindness, compassion, appreciative joy, and equanimity our hearts release from deadening egoism. These “godly homes” — along with gratitude, forgiveness, trust, and respect — are beautiful alternatives to destructive emotions like envy and anger. These facets of love express our commitment to Dhamma in a world that’s often divisive, scary, and exploitative. By opening ourselves beyond petty ego fixations we embody the better world everyone deserves.

Retreat Overview and Parameters

Buddhist tradition honors qualities of the heart that inspire us to behave better, bring well-being and joy, and foster release from egoism. The brahma-vihāras (divine abodes, godly dwellings) are a prominent set of such qualities: kindness, compassion, appreciative joy, and equanimity. The more deeply we embody these qualities, the more we live divinely. The brahma-vihāras inform our attitudes towards and relationships with others, including people who are superficially much different from us. We further expand them to include all forms of life. Cultivating these beautiful attitudes and heart qualities brings richness and depth to our spiritual life. The brahma-vihāras are also described as immeasurable and boundless releases of the heart. Their expansion of our sense of self beyond bounds dissolves the knot of egoism that suffers.

In this At Home retreat, teaching will take place Online via Zoom. You will need to download and install the Zoom app to participate. This format supports you in deepening your at-home practice, responding to the contingencies of the situation we are in, and fostering sangha while taking wise Covid-19 precautions.

Participants are expected to follow the entire retreat, participate with all the guided meditations and talks live or by recording, practice with each day's guided meditation and instruction, meditate on one's own, and reflect with the retreat teachings each day.

Schedule

We'll start with a brief Introduction, and then Guided Meditation, at 7:00 am on Monday March 22nd (all times Central) and will keep the following schedule of Online Zoom Sessions through Friday February 26th afternoon.¹

7:00 am Guided Meditation: brief introduction, 40 minute practice, and questions.

2:00 pm Practice discussion (Q/A)

7:00 pm Evening explication of the Brahma-Vihāras and Noble Path

If your work and family schedule allows, please treat these five days as a special time for greater attention to meditation, silence, and slowing down. If you have family and work commitments, inform them with our daily practice of the brahma-vihāras.

Meditate as able, in addition to the daily guided meditation. Add walking meditation, yoga, or qigong as able.

Noble Speech, Listening, & Silence: within the realities of your living situation, abstain from speech as much as possible, especially trivial and frivolous speech, as well as worry-perpetuating, complaining, and blaming speech. To the extent possible, stay off the internet and don't check email. If you must use devices, create realistic guidelines for yourself to wisely limit net browsing and email activity.

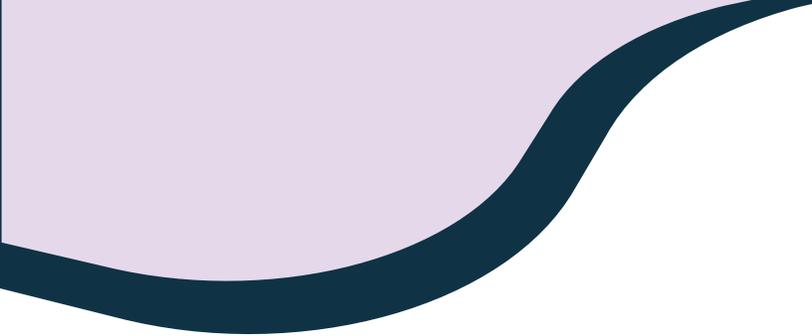

The retreat is your own responsibility. The online sessions are meant to support whatever you need to do each day, according to your circumstances, while keeping a focus on the Dhamma of the brahma-vihāras. Please stay within the spirit of retreat.

All the sessions will be recorded. You will have access to the recordings within a few hours of each session and the audio portion will be available after the retreat, also.

An important aspect of Home Retreat, such as this one, is developing a practice that fits with your own home and life realities. That requires some flexibility. During Covid-19 many people have discovered that having to stay at home isn't enough to meditate regularly. They are finding that discipline and structure are important. This retreat offers some structure to support your learning and practice.
